On May 22, 2018, ROBLOX launched Project Bloks, an app for iOS and Android devices that is aimed towards children 2-12 years old. The app allows users to build various blocks available in the game. Some blocks are also available as virtual items for purchase. The revenue earned from these items is then distributed among the app developers on ROBLOX. The game was first released in Canada, and now has been released in the United States.

Roblox has been criticized for allowing other companies to make games on their site such as "Mining Simulator", which is a game that contains copyrighted material from BeamNG.drive, and "Brain Simulator", which is a clear clone of Brain Cube (which was also created by the same person who created Brain Simulator), and copyrighted material from several other games such as Robloxian Highschool and Backyard Zombies.

The game's worlds are different from most games on Roblox, because they are not based around themes. This makes the game easier to navigate when learning how the world works, and also allows for more creativity in the types of things that can be made. The world is made up of a variety of things; buildings, vehicles, furniture and objects such as weapons and armor. Each item has its own purpose and will function in the way it was intended for.

In 2018, ROBLOX announced that it will be taking a chunk of its earnings and give it to the developers among them. Some developers are making over $5,000 USD per month using ROBLOX. Roblox has had two cases with Microsoft. Roblox was originally banned from Xbox Live due to the game running advertisements which violated Microsoft's Terms of Service by being inappropriate for children. The ads contained anime-style nudity and extreme gore. This was later changed however when Roblox reached an agreement with Xbox Live regarding the matter between them.
