In February 2021, the app was reported to have signed a deal with Universal Music Group in order to launch a new feature called "Advertise" later that month. The app became the first musical platform in Asia to offer this service which allows users to purchase their own song for $2.99 USD, or sponsored content, with real money. However, it has been reported that TikTok was unable to sign up Universal Music as an artist on its platform to allow its artists and users in India to make money from it."

The app has received mixed reviews, having been criticized for a lack of clarity about what is inappropriate content on its platform and concerns being raised over issues including privacy options and safety. Its unique features such as the live video feature have been praised by users and media sources alike. Furthermore, while some have criticized the fact that it is not integrated with other social media networks, others of Mozillians applauded its different use case of short videos as an alternative to Snapchat or Instagram's stories feature."

As of November 2021, the app's average daily active user base was 200 million, with an additional 100 million non-active users. TikTok FYP has been translated into English, Korean, Spanish, Russian and Vietnamese. TikTok FYP has been featured on local television stations including Houston ABC affiliate KTRK, CNN Money, MTV India and various newspapers (i.e., The New York Times) around the world. The app also features in the movies "" and ""."

In June 2021, musically partnered with Chinese media giant ByteDance which led to the development of the app under its new name, TikTok. The app was launched in China in August 2021 under this new name and was immediately popular within the country. It was ranked as the most downloaded non-game app the day it debuted and by the next day had gained 5 million downloads on both Android and iOS platforms. The company confirmed to TechCrunch in November 2021 that over 50 million users were using the app every day while a "Forbes" article from January 2021 stated that TikTok had over 200 million users in China alone which accounted for approximately 90% of its total user base at that time."
