ROBLOX is the first game that was able to make an international monetary currency (Robux) that can be used for buying in-game items. [116] The next game to have a monetary currency was Habbo Hotel where they introduced Habbo Coins which are used for buying furniture, clothing and accessories. [117]

ROBLOX uses cookies, a small piece of data containing a unique identification number that is sent to the user's browser from the web server and stored on the user's computer hard drive. By storing on the hard drive, ROBLOX is able to recall user preferences and settings, such as game scores or user names. ROBLOX uses cookies to monitor how users use the platform as well as how effective its ads are at converting users into paying customers.[3]

Every year since 2011 Roblox has hosted a "Developer's Conference" at the language center of Carnegie Mellon University. In 2013 and 2015, the conference was held in Washington DC. It is usually held between late July and early August. The event includes a keynote from an important person of interest to Roblox developers (i.e., one of the founders).

- No clear guidelines as to how the game works. There is no tutorial on how to build things or what some items do.

Builders Club Premium can be used in games greatly increasing the amount of Robux and/or XP a player earns by a given amount. If used, then Builder's Club is required to play those games. There are two types of premium features: content premium and currency premium. Content Premiums typically involves a single item or feature that changes the game mechanic, such as more life points and/or more room to build, or increased maximum health for monsters. Currency Premiums usually involve the addition of new items to the game that are only available through favorable conditions (for example, allowing players to purchase a specific item for Robux). Some Currency Premiums can also require membership in Builders Club.
