In an article published in a publication in Hong Kong, it was alleged that there was heavy criticism behind the app's recent policy changes regarding content which violates their policies and community guidelines. In this article, it was reported that "TikTok's recent changes have led to massive outrage from its user base." It went on to report that "The new policy bans users from sharing personal information like contact details and credit card numbers. Both are required to create an account in order to use the app."

In November 2018, Musical.ly, Inc. announced that they had applied for an IPO with the SEC and would be listed on the New York Stock Exchange under the ticker symbol "LY". The company stated that they hoped to raise around $100 million from their IPO. Following the announcement of its IPO, Tencent announced that it had sold off its stake in Musical.ly and plans to re-invest $750 million into the company. The company also said that it planned to use some of this money to allow users who didn't want to create a Musical.ly account to share their content on TikTok."

In May 2018, British pop artist Lorde's song "Homemade Dynamite" reached #1 on TikTok's global charts and peaked at #1 in the United States. The song was used to promote TikTok and to further its brand awareness. The artist performed at Coachella Music Festival to promote her popularity on TikTok as well."

In July 2018, it was reported that TikTok had reached a deal with Snapchat to produce sponsored videos for the Snapchat Discover platform. This arrangement came after Snapchat's CEO Evan Spiegel had shared an Instagram post of himself and a TikTok exec riding in a helicopter."
