The app was banned by the Chinese government for several days in 2018 which triggered outrage from users of both Chinese and international versions of the app. The ban was lifted after 9 days but still remains in effect.",

In an article published by Motherboard, it claimed that "TikTok has grown hugely popular among teens around the world as a social media platform. Teenagers use TikTok to post videos of themselves dancing or giving their cats a bath, for example. The app makes money from selling ads – which are also extremely popular among teenagers and young adults." This article was published on Motherboard.",

Due to its popularity, there has been controversy regarding age-appropriate content on the app and in terms of privacy. On January 6th, 2019, an update was released to make it impossible for people under 13 to use the app. This was due to increasing concerns about how much data young children were sharing through this app. There are still some who are able to bypass these rules, but most are too young to do so.",

Unlike other social media apps, not everyone can use TikTok publicly. It requires you to use a profile which is limited in access. If you are already a member, you can log in with your username and password using the social network's login on TikTok either via your mobile or desktop application.",

In June 2017, musical.ly partnered with Chinese media giant ByteDance which led to the development of the app under its new name, TikTok. The app was launched in China in August 2017 under this new name and was immediately popular within the country. It was ranked as the most downloaded non-game app the day it debuted and by the next day had gained 5 million downloads on both Android and iOS platforms. The company confirmed to TechCrunch in November 2017 that over 50 million users were using the app every day while a "Forbes" article from January 2018 stated that TikTok had over 200 million users in China alone which accounted for approximately 90% of its total user base at that time.",
