There are two kinds of issues with Roblox development. One is syntax issues which deal with how the code works and how to make it function correctly. The other one deals with data issues which involve working with saved variables in games. Since users can change data, they are prone to having issues in this area.

This is mostly used for buying virtual items such as weapons or accessories on Roblox's marketplace and selling them at a profit, which is rather common as people often sell their in-game belongings/items for real money .

I don't really have an answer for you, but I'm sure this is a problem that other people have as well. I think the game needs to be made less serious because people will not want to spend money on fake money (robux) if they know there's no real value behind those items they purchased with their fake money. The best way to accomplish this would be to make hats, shirts, etcetera for gamers who spend more than a certain amount of money.

Robin allows its players to participate in in-game events which are typically organized by the administrators of the game. These events may include special tasks for Robloxians or extra items that can be obtained during the events. Players who take part in these events may gain access to different amounts of ROBUX depending on their performance.

On October 8, 2017, they released a video showing large amounts of bugs and glitches in the game Frostbite. These include several bugs that allow for players to place guns and kill other players in mere seconds. ROBLOX said on their blog that this was due to an "incorrectly prepared prize package" but later stated that it was an error during a new update of their "Prototype Editor", which was supposed to have fixed the issues, but evidently did not.
