In 2006, David Baszucki, an MIT graduate and former robotics engineer, teamed up with co-founder Erik Cassel to create a game for the iPhone. After using the iPhone prototype to showcase the technology at Apple's Worldwide Developers Conference in 2008, they partnered with Roblox Corporation to develop a new platform for their ideas. In April 2009 they founded Roblox Corporation to create games and developer tools on Roblox. Both were inspired by Lego and video games.

ROBLOX is a company characterized by its community-based culture. This is reflected in its games, which are generally hosted on the website (as opposed to the product), and as a result, are built by users for users. The developers at ROBLOX have stated that they are completely open to third party development—the only restriction on what is considered acceptable and permissible is that all products must be compatible with ROBLOX's Terms of Service. Whether ROBLOX soft products will be accepted into the Steam platform is still unconfirmed.

Floating Balls! I have noticed that when you are at a group world and getting on people's chat heads they should be able to fly around like on normal. We need this because there are so many times where such a little bug would make these people mad if they were floating anywhere near them because they would not know what to say. Even though there are thousands of people in the group there should be more room for them to float. I think that there should be more than one chat head. I have seen people report this bug but it has not been fixed and I really want to see it fixed.

Every year since 2011 Roblox has hosted a "Developer's Conference" at the language center of Carnegie Mellon University. In 2013 and 2015, the conference was held in Washington DC. It is usually held between late July and early August. The event includes a keynote from an important person of interest to Roblox developers (i.e., one of the founders).
