The free robux script will integrate and use the features of Facebook for comments, sharing and comment posting. You will not have to write any code since the interface provided is done using HTML5 and CSS3 which allows for web developers to build websites that can be programmed using Javascript and CSS3 formatting. ROBLOX has also created multiple books based on the game as well as making an appearance in a book called "Block by Block". They have also created multiple action figures as well as plush toys.

The reasons why you can get free robux is because some games do not charge a fee to play with them. They also do not include any in-app purchases that try to collect the user's money for no reason. Some gamers also leave reviews and recommendations on websites and apps where they give it a try. These types of websites are useful to new gamers who have never tried the free robux option before. The number of people trying these different options that provide users with free robux will eventually increase, which makes it harder for users who are in search of free robux to get it. On May 23, 2013, ROBLOX launched an in-game currency known as "TIX" (short for Tickets). It was worth one cent each since its release up until March 2014 when it became worth ten cents. They were planned to be used to buy virtual items for the game "Dance Off", but this never happened. In 2016, ROBLOX announced that TIX would no longer be used in the near future and that other ways of earning and spending money would be found. The currency was officially retired on October 14, 2016; while any TIX that was previously owned by players became converted into an equal amount of Tickets. ROBLOX launched an option to buy TIX with real money on January 13, 2017.

ROBLOX has also come under criticism for not having any sort of Quality Assurance, meaning that there is a high chance that the art in users' games will have issues, such as visual glitches, poor texture quality, and various other issues with the art itself.
