If you look at the way the majority of games are played you realize that one person or a group of players will have a significant advantage over another unfairly and those who aren't as good will be forced to pay more for their virtual items in order to keep up with the better players. That's not fun.

Rated 5 out of 5 by Anonymous from So much fun I love this game so much! There is no fighting, just chatting with your friends online and there are no missions or quests to complete to play this game. It has no age limit either, so younger kids can join in.

Here is where things get a little confusing but stick with me for a second and I'll link things together for you. When you get Robux gems and tokens from winning games, there is no value in the items you receive. There is no way to spend those items on anything in this game because they don't have any value. You can't sell them, you can't trade them for anything, they don't have in game money attached to them, etcetera.

For example, Jailbreak offers a premium feature which allows players to purchase more life points. As the game is free, there is no way for them to gain XP in the traditional sense. Instead of implementing XP via cash or coin drop-rates (as would be done in a game that relies on premium features), they offer more life points as a way to make it easier for players if they choose to purchase them. Free games also don't have an option of offering premium features that modify their economies or XP systems. Therefore, they usually offer only the default system as an option for non-Premium members.

Roblox offers a tremendous amount of games and features which, once you have played, can easily be overwhelming. If this is the case for you, keep it simple when creating your own roblox games. Choose a theme that is highly in demand right now or create something compatible with the standard ones. A simple game project can be as easy as tapping and holding three fingers on the screen to throw balls of fire at your opponents' faces. Do not worry if no one plays your game, since this will happen when the topic becomes old news among other players.
