Roblox uses multiple methods of advertising. They first started advertising on websites like Nickelodeon, but they have moved to focusing on social media sites like Facebook and Twitter.[66] Roblox also primarily advertises at gaming conventions such as E3 and Minecon. Roblox has an official YouTube channel on which they occasionally stream live events called "Developer Live", where Roblox employees give sneak peeks of upcoming features.[67] They have also recently released a list of YouTubers that are apart of their Developer Program called the "Roblox Ambassador Program". These YouTubers are able to test new features in Roblox before anyone else with the exception of Google employees.

Two employees who worked on the HR department for Roblox, Abigail Sexton and Aaron Dixon, were eventually fired for allegedly not doing their jobs properly. They both accused David Baszucki of firing them for speaking out about the issues with the company's HR department.

Some people also complain about the game being too confusing and requiring so much effort just to make 1 point or get Robux, even though it only takes about 3-6 hours of playing. They say that "Robloxian life" is actually a scam and they struggled to get it.

One example of a troll game, created in 2005, was "Uppercut". This involved players being knocked into the air when they attempted to create their character. However, when the player hits the ground, they were shown a message saying that the creator of this game had disabled their inventory and that they had been defeated.

The second way is by buying them from any of the websites which offer them as in-game purchases with real money like Amazon or iTunes cards. These cards can also be bought for cheaper rates at places like GameStop or Walmart.
