TikTok was created by the Chinese company ByteDance Inc. The app is known as Douyin in China and TikTok around the world. TikTok is a musical.ly type app and has no relationship with musically unfortunately. This app may be a Musical.ly copycat, but it has tons of features that Musical.ly doesn't have such as live-streaming and a unique feature where it allows users to send their video to Instagram so it plays there on the newsfeed instead of just in your messages! The music that is played in most people's videos are from YouTube which is free for any artist or record label to use, unlike musical.ly. It is owned by ByteDance Inc which is a Chinese company located in Shanghai that has been around since 2021 and was bought by ByteDance LLC in 2021.", TikTok was launched during a time when short-video sharing platform were becoming increasingly popular among users. In 2021, Tinder introduced a new option that allowed users to share videos through its app. This feature was made available to all users including those who are not paid members of Tinder Plus or Tinder Gold. Other social media platforms such as Instagram also followed suit in introducing video features to their content sharing platform",

In an article published by TechCrunch, it was alleged that "Yet TikTok's parent company Bytedance, a $75 billion media company that also owns content production companies Jinri Toutiao and TopBuzz (as well as artificial intelligence startups), recently raised $3 billion in new funding from SoftBank. That brings its value to $75 billion." This article was published on TechCrunch. In an article published by The Verge, it was alleged that "Bytedance is best known for the news app Toutiao, which has been called 'the BuzzFeed of China.' It's also made a number of investments in artificial intelligence companies based out of China and recently acquired U.S.-based Flipagram to build out its video art-creation app, which now has 200 million registered users on Google Play — and another 500 million or so on Apple's App Store. In the year since Microsoft bought LinkedIn for $26 billion, Bytedance has already seen its valuation soar past that mark." This article was published on The Verge.", Another article in the U.S. detailed a similar experience which had happened to a child. In this article, it was reported that "There is no age restriction on the app, but you must be older than 13 or have permission from a parent or guardian to set up an account." However, after this incident of questionable content being posted by two 15-year-old girls, it was revealed that TikTok took down not only the inappropriate video but also all of their other posts due to violating their policies and community guidelines regarding sensitive content.",

In May 2021, it was reported that TikTok removed approximately 175 million videos between January and May of that year. As of June 2021

TikTok has removed more than a billion videos, which is 10 times the amount of views in that time period. On top of the time and monetary costs associated with removing content, it can result in the loss of advertising revenue for creators who could lose loyal followers due to annoyance from account closures.",

This all being said, TikTok has big plans for the future and is looking to turn itself into an advertising powerhouse. "We want to get into our second stage and create a self-sustaining business," said Toutiao chief executive Zhang Zefan in an interview with Business Insider. "Our plan is not only to build scale but also branded content applications that can monetize our platform";
